THE ALASKA GOLD MINES.

Political economists agree that the discovery of gold in California increased the value of property and the wages of workmen from twenty to twenty-five per cent. The discovery of silver on the Comstock added to the marketable value of commodities and labor, also, and an era of prosperity followed unparalleled in the history of any other country. The coinage of the product of the gold and silver mines increased the volume of money circulation and the United States came the most enterprising and progressive nation on the globe. The mines were producing millions in gold and silver, which were being coined to legal tender money; labor commanded good wages and the products of labor brought good prices. This is due to the increased volume of money, which encouraged enterprise and developed the resources of the country.

The discovery of gold in appreciable quantity in Alaska will have the same effect on the prices of labor and commodities as did the discovery of gold in California. If the rush to Alaska at present results in the production of fifty or fifty millions of gold within a year, with a prospect of a steady increase in the output for several years to come, there will be a decided advance in the value of real and personal property in the United States as an appreciable increase in the volume of money will result and a corresponding increase in its purchasing power. The production of eighty or a hundred millions of gold dust annually in Alaska will have the same effect on the business of the country as would the coinage of silver, for either would increase the volume of money and decrease the purchasing power of a dollar. One is as objectionable to the distrust as the other, for either will aid its schemes by making money plentiful, thereby giving debtors better opportunity to square accounts with their creditors.

Let us hope in the interest of the states that the Alaska gold fields are rich and extensive and that their output this year and for many years to come will exceed that of the California mines in the early fifties so that the output of the gold trust on the country will be loosened and prosperity once more find an abiding place in the United States.

Great Britain will participate in a monetary conference in the United States next winter. It has been reported to the British money kings that something is done to restore the silver to its old standard the silver dollar will be in the ascendancy in the Congress and will pass a bill to restore silver whether Europe consents or not. It is not expected that the British Government will pledge itself to abide by the result of the conference, but in all probability it will be presented at the meeting.

The Secretary of the Navy has rejected the bids of the armor making companies to supply the diagonal armor for the battleships now being built, the Alabama, Wisconsin and Illinois. The companies think they have Government on the hip and can sell their own prices for the armor. It appears that the Secretary is not to be ring and will not pay the companies $500 a ton for armor that can be at a profit for two hundred dollars a ton less.

The United States war ship Maine has been playing havoc in New York harbor and proving herself a veritable mercer destroyer. She smashed the bow of the excursion boat Chaumont, ran into a pier and struck a float, which were then loaded railroad and sent it to the bottom of the harbor. The war vessels are built to destroy commerce and the Maine is fulfilling its mission.

ANNA, the politician, says prosperity and hand business is improving; the coal miner, says the business conditions of the country are not as to allow an increase of miners' wages. How do the public like such unobtainable statements from the mouth of this great Republican statesman—Ogden Standard.

DETROIT SERVICE AGENT HARRIS has informed that a large amount of counterfeit silver dollars are in circulation in San Francisco. It is suspected the coins are made in California. The counterfeiters took advantage of the number of strangers in the city to make them in circulation.

There is a race war in Illinois. A number of white miners are deterred that about one hundred negroes, are at work at Oden in that State not be permitted to mine coal. Whites are armed with Winchester and State troops may be sent to them.

The Directors of the Southern Pacific selected George Crocker to fill the vacancy caused by the death of the late Daniel C. Crocker. George invested a million or so at Promontory years ago in learning to be a cow boy but did not succeed, and is now a legged railroad man.

TELEGRAPHIC NOTES.

The record in the case of Theodore Durrant was filed in the office of the Clerk of the United States Supreme Court yesterday.

A destructive hailstorm passed near Sioux Falls, S. D., Friday evening. Everything in its path was destroyed. It is estimated that 5,000,000 acres of crops were destroyed.

The heat prevailing at St. Joseph, Mo., is intense. The mercury registers 100 in the shade and is almost unbearable. A number of persons were overcome and horses died in the streets.

Dr. O. O. Brown, formerly of San Francisco, denies the report that he is to be tried before the Bay Conference of the Congressional Conference in that city. Dr. Brown is at Chicago.

Walter Hobart, the young millionaire who has had an attack of appendicitis, was so much better yesterday that the physicians concluded that the contemplated operation was unnecessary.

A rich lead mine has been found on Main street in the city of Joplin, Mo. A ton of the ore was taken out at a depth of seven feet from the surface. Machinery will be put up and the mine developed.

Edward Flannigan, convicted of the murder of Mrs. Nancy Allen and Miss Ruth Stack on the night of December 31, 1896, was sentenced to be hanged at Atlanta, Ga., yesterday. The day of execution was set for August 5th.

Senator White expressed himself yesterday at Los Angeles that the San Pedro harbor matter would probably be held over until the next Congress meets. He said, however, that he believed San Pedro would eventually win.

At Cloudman Cal., Friday John Smith, a sheepowner whose field of feed was on fire, stopped a train on the valley road and at the point of a gun forced the train hands to fight the fire. The fire started from sparks from an engine on a previous train, so Smith blocked the road for the next and made the hands help him.

Jeannie Young, otherwise known as "The Baroness Von Turkheim," has commenced suit for divorce against Charles J. Von Arnold at San Francisco on the ground that when she married him he already had a wife from whom he had not been legally separated. She also claims that the circumstances of her marriage was part of a conspiracy by D. M. Delmas to get her out of the country.

EASTERN NEVADA.

The Prospects for Stockmen Looking Very Bright.

Out in Eastern Nevada things are beginning to pick up a little and the prospects for next fall seem quite bright. The people are more contented and the hoped-for better times seem once more in sight. Cattle have gone up considerably and an increasing demand for beef stock, in fact for any kind of stock, has arisen. The ranges of the Eastern States, owing to the excessive strain placed upon them by the demand of a growing population for meat, have become depleted and our Western cattle are being used to restock them. It is said that there is hardly a stockraiser in Elko or White Pine counties who is willing at present to sell, all preferring to hold and wait for fall prices. There is an abundance of food on all the ranges and the stock are looking exceptionally well. The hay crop this year is on the average a good one, although it was feared for a time that it would be very light. The haying season is in full blast and it is estimated that there are in the neighborhood of two hundred men working in the fields in Huntington and Mound Valley alone.

The Viavi Work.

In no way can we do more good than in restoring the sick to health. This Viavi will do, if intelligently used.

Have you stomach trouble? Use our Tabloids.

Have you piles? Use our Sano.

Have you catarrh? Use our Catarrh Remedy.

Are you weak and all run down? Use Viavi.

Come and see me and I will fully explain the use of all of our remedies.

A HOTEL IN TWO TOWNS.

If One Town Goes Dry the Bar Can Be Moved into the Other Town.

In selecting the site for the Grand hotel in the Catskills, on the top of Pine Hill mountain, the owners evidently had in mind the vagaries of the excise vote. It is not generally known that the Grand hotel stands on the boundary line of Ulster and Delaware counties, the boundary line passing almost through the middle of the hotel building. The hotel therefore is in the township of Shandaken, Ulster county, and in the township of Middletown, Delaware county. Should Shandaken go dry, the hotel bar could be moved to Middletown, and vice versa. Advantage has been taken of this fact by the hotel owners to keep down the assessment, says the New York Sun.

The assessors of Shandaken placed a valuation on the property of $50,000, but agreed to assess it for only $25,000 if the hotel would remain in that township. This year they have raised the hotel assessment to $30,000, and the owners have notified them that they intend to remove the hotel to Delaware county, where the assessment will be made much lower by the town of Middletown. The assessors of Shandaken township are going to try to have a bill passed by the next legislature creating this hotel property into a special district, and giving to the stockholders the privilege of voting as to where they shall be assessed or whether they shall be assessed at all.

BREVITIES.

Water pipe laid cheap by Lange & Schmitt.

Screen doors and windows at Lange & Schmitt's.

Miss Woodbury of Empire changed cars for the west last evening.

Rubstaller's gilt edge Sacramento beer at the Wine House, also all of the cool summer drinks.

Miss Timmons, who has been visiting relatives in Reno, took the train for California last evening.

At Riter's the Sunday lunch will be choice and varied. Henry knows just how to cater to his patrons.

After your dinner to-day call at Becker's Model and buy a General Arthur or other choice cigar.

Tomorrow will be steamer day. Put up and look pleasant and fancy that prosperity has struck the town.

Refrigerators, icecream freezers, garden hose, lawn mowers, the best and cheapest at Lange & Schmitt's.

The Commissioners will meet to-morrow and those having business before the Board should be promptly on hand.

The Virginia and Gold Hill Water Company has re-elected the old board of directors, with D. C. Bates as Secretary.

The squirrels are fast destroying the crop of grain on upper Reese river and many of the farmers will have a very light crop.

The dinner at the Washoe Lunch Counter will be all a hungry man will desire. Spring lamb and chicken will be the delicacies.

Things are reported pretty lively in Mason Valley. With the copper and gold mines booming it puts considerable life in the country.

Thyes will have clam chowder and other delicacies for lunch to-day. A glass of A. B. C. beer or a claret punch will top the lunch off just right.

The Riverside Sunday dinner will be a feast to-day. The family trade is especially solicited and all may be sure of value received for their money.

Dr. Charles Coffin is fitting up dental offices in the Investment Company's building on Virginia St. He will be ready for business early next week.

Mrs. Moll Stevens, the nurse, left for Grizzly Creek, Plumas county yesterday morning where Mr. Stevens is employed in the mines. She will be absent about a month.

Governor Sadler returned from Elko yesterday morning looking hale and hearty. The Governor reports a good harvest and the farmers and stock men happy in consequence.

Four Mason Valley Platers want a grubstake for a trip to the Klondyke. Here is a chance for some enterprising prospector to get his provisions packed over the Chilcot pass.

The Granite Saloon is a quiet and pleasant place of resort. Cool beer is a specialty. Choice wines are sold by the gallon or in quantities desired, also liquors of all kinds.

Several good strikes of gold have occurred in Plumas and Sierra counties and there is quite a stir in mining circles in that country. Some of the prospects are very rich and bid fair to develop rich mines.

The Yerington Rustler reports the death of J. C. Hinds of Hinds' Hot Springs, Smith Valley. Mr. Hinds has been suffering from paralysis for some time and died last week. He was a pioneer and highly respected.

A. Nelson will sacrifice his stock of furnishing goods in order to make room for new goods. Now is the time to get bargains. Call at his store on Virginia street. Free employment office connected with the store.

Call at Muller & Stump's Pubst agency for fine California and imported wines for family and medicinal purposes. Sherry, port, muscatel, angelica and all dry wines by the gallon. Open every day until 7 o'clock.

Master Herman Sadler of San Francisco arrived from Elko with his uncle, the Governor, yesterday morning and continued on to Carson. He has been spending his vacation in Nevada. He is a bright boy and makes many friends.

Friends at Gold Hill have received letters from a member of the family of Dan de Quille stating that they all arrived at West Liberty, Iowa, in good health. Dan stood the journey very well and increased in strength after his arrival there.

Nelsonville is the name of the settlement across the river. With "Pizen Switch" Mason Valley, Greenfield, Yerington and Nelsonville, it will soon be difficult to tell where we live. One name, in our opinion, would be enough for the community.—Yerington Rustler.

The Palace Dry Goods and Carpet House offers this week at special sale; Ladies' Shirt Waists, made of fine quality Lappet Cloth in light and dark colors and in sizes 32 to 40, the $2.00 and $1.75 quality at $1.25 each. Pongee silk can be washed the same as linen and consequently can be used for waists, dresses, shirts, skirts, underwear and for many other purposes.

WILL SAIL AUGUST 5TH.

McKinnon and McCabe, the Virginia Miners, Have Completed Arrangements.

Captain D. M. Ryan and Rev. Father Tabman have received letters from John McKinnon and Tom McCabe, the two men who were engaged by Mr. Ryan and others at Virginia to visit the Klondyke gold fields in the mutual interest of a pool.

The Chronicle says: McKinnon and McCabe will leave for St. Michaels by steamer on August 5th. They will go on the steamer Sootia, which will leave San Francisco under special charter and in command of Captain Rideout. For $500 Captain Rideout contracts to take them to St. Michaels by steamer and tranship them thence by flat boat to Dawson City. The contracts provides that each shall be furnished by Rideout with 1,800 pounds of provisions which will be transported to Dawson, along with 1,200 pounds of baggage or freight, which each man may provide for himself.

The provisions provided by Captain Rideout will keep them for a year and a half or two years. For 1,200 pounds of baggage will include whatever McKinnon and McCabe regard as necessary in clothing and tools. It is estimated by Captain Ryan that this latter outfit can be furnished in first-class style for $250. It will therefore be seen that McCabe and McKinnon will, for $750 apiece, land in Dawson equipped to prospect for 18 months or two years without further expense.

They will go all the way by water, and the trip will entail no hardships upon them. The steamer upon which they will travel to St. Michaels is limited to 40 passengers and their provisions and baggage. If they meet with no delay in ascending the Yukon, they will reach Dawson by September 15th.

Fishing for Suckers.

The green goods counterfeiters are mailing their circulars to Nevada people again. A communication was received by a gentleman a few days ago signed "J. B. Condon, New York." The communication states for the information of the gentleman that the writer is agent of the cleverest forger and counterfeit in the world. By some means, not given in detail, on a date not specified, the cleverest forger and counterfeit in the world stole a number of plates from the Treasury Department, and has since made it his business and pleasure to stamp bills of the denominations of $1, $2, $5, $10 and $20. He has a large surplus stock of these bills, which are, of course, on their face, perfectly genuine.

The Fall season is about to set in and the cleverest forger, etc., desires to get rid of his Summer stock. Therefore he will sell the goods at the following ridiculously low prices: $40,000 for $2,000 in coin, $10,000 for $500, $6,000 for $450, $2,000 for $200. Of course the margin made by the buyer is a pure gratuity from the writer, who gives the impression that he is a philanthropist of course, and desires nothing more than to see his fellow beings rich and happy.

The circular instructs the gentleman to sign his reply "Columbus." Enclosed with the circular was a clipping in the dress of the New York Sun, which describes the life, skill and almost heroic achievements of the cleverest forger, etc., who is called by a dozen aliases. The "clipping" is of course done on a job press and was never out from a newspaper. The postscript to the circular advises the recipient "not to be frightened by any warnings which may appear on the outside of this letter. They are ruses of the Treasury Department."

An Unlucky Number.

It is claimed that the railroad men have had a suspicion for sometime that engine No. 1813, which ditched the passenger near here the other day would sooner or later make trouble. The fact that her number ended with 13, and that the sum of the four figures of her number made 13, also the first and last figures made the unlucky number, added strength to the superstition. The boys did not say much, but frequently looked at those four figures and tried to break the combination on 13, but it was impossible. After the accident occurred, there were several remarks such as, "the number did the job," "she was a hoodoo," "knew she would land us some day," etc. The fact, also, that the head engine on the train passed over unharmed and 1813 met with disaster, has a tendency to confirm their theory.

The engine, after a hard day's work and many discouraging efforts to right her on the part of the crew, was set back on the track last evening a little after 8 o'clock. The drivers and trucks were found all right and she was pulled to Verdi to await a freight to take her to the shops at Sacramento. The boys are in hopes that her number will be changed.

Church Notices.

Congregational Church—Rev. T. Magill will conduct the services at this Church to-day. The subject of discourse at 11 A. M. will be, "Seeking the Important Things First." In the evening the subject will be, "The Ascent of Man."

Trinity Church—Litany, Sermon and Communion 11. Sunday School 12:30.

Will Sail Wednesday Next.

Word has been received that Charles Lake and O. Rasmussen will sail on the Casper on Wednesday for Juneau. The Casper is the steamer that General Powning is interested in. Anyone having the Klondyke fever should apply at once by wire for passage. The office of the steamer is at 628 Market street, opposite Palace Hotel.

Anyone wanting Three Ply or in Grains carpets and matting should buy them of S. Emrich, as he is closing out his entire stock of carpets and matting.

Judge Cheney took the train for California last evening for a month's visit. He has arranged with Judge Mack to look after any urgent business in his district during his absence.

Mrs. Charles Lake will continue business at the old stand during her husband's absence. She will also represent his interest in the Nevada Telephone and Construction Company.

Ed. Dennis, brakeman on the swing train, returned from California last evening. He has had serious trouble with an injured toe that came near resulting in a case of blood poisoning.

The remains of Charles H. Gardiner, who died on Friday night, will be embalmed and shipped to his former Eastern home. His mother wired to that effect yesterday. Mrs. Gardiner will start East in a day or two with the remains.

Five sections of freight train No. 10 passed through for the west last night. This shows that there is heavy business on the Central Pacific, as the fruit trains bound eastward and stock trains already scheduled give the crews about all they can handle.

District Court.

Judge Cheney was occupied yesterday with the mandamus case of Anderson vs. Shearer. This case will be remembered in connection with a certain claim against the county for attorney's fees in a suit wherein a question arose whether the amount of taxes for 1896 on Anderson's sheep properly belonged to this or Storey county. The Commissioners had agreed to pay the attorney's fees to test the matter, but owing to some irregularity in the proceedings of the Board, Auditor Shearer vetoed the bill and refused to draw his warrant. The mandamus proceeding is brought to enforce the payment according to the alleged agreement of the Board of Commissioners.

The case was argued and submitted and Judge Cheney will probably submit his decision in September. Several knotty points are involved in the case and it is one of considerable importance to stockmen as well as the various counties, hence the test case.

A NEW CAMP.

Bald Mountain, White Pine county, is soon to be opened as a mining camp. An Eastern syndicate has become interested and, if reports are true, will in the near future have mines and mills running in full blast. They have begun operations on the Colorado plan by locating and patenting all the desirable mining land in the vicinity of the mountain and now, with the exception of one or two claims, they have a corner on the mineral land of that neighborhood. Major Long of Eureka and a competent corps of engineers have been out surveying for them for the last four or five months. Only within the last two weeks the company has purchased the Hot Springs Ranch for $5,000 in order to have water enough to run their mills. It looks as though they meant business. We wish them luck, for a mining camp in that vicinity would bolster up the country in that neighborhood quite a bit.

Bald Mountain is situated about sixty miles south of Elko in the Ruby range. There is abundance of wood in the district, though water is somewhat scarce at this season of the year. The mines are extensive and comprise gold, silver and copper.
